Make better provision for the encouragement and regulation of the Coast and Deep Sea Fisheries of Ireland.

A.D. 1876.

The clauses and words in Italics are proposed to be inserted in Committee.

WHEREAS the improvement and encouragement of the Irish fisheries are objects of great importance, not only to Ireland, but to the wealth and commercial prosperity and naval strength of the United Kingdom :

- 5 And whereas the system established in Scotland for the regulation of the sea fisheries has been found by experience to have produced great advantages to that portion of the United Kingdom, and it is just and expedient to establish a system similar in its principles in Ireland :
- 10 Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows; (that is to say.)

1. This Act may be cited on all occasions and for all intents and 15 purposes as "The Deep Sea Fisheries (Ireland) Act, 1875." Short title of Act.

2. This Act shall, except as to any act herein-after required or authorised to be done before that day, come into operation on the first day of January one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, the period herein-after referred to as the commencement of 20 this Act. Commencement of Act.

3. Immediately after the passing of this Act it shall be lawful for the Lord Lieutenant under his hand and seal, from time to time to nominate and appoint fifteen persons to be commissioners specially for overseeing, directing, and improving the deep sea and 25 coast fisheries of Ireland, to be called the Commissioners of the (Bill 221.) Lord Lieutenants may appoint commissioners for the Irish fisheries.

A

A D. 1875. Irish Sea Fisheries, with power to them, or any number of them, by the instrument of appointment to be determined, to execute or cause to be executed the provisions of this Act in manner herein mentioned.

Commissioners to be a corporation.

4. The Commissioners so appointed, and their successors appointed 5 as herein-after mentioned, shall be incorporated by the name of the Commissioners of Irish Sea Fisheries, and shall by that name be capable of suing and being sued, they shall have a common seal, be capable of holding property, with all other the rights and powers incident by law to bodies corporate. 10

Power to appoint officers.

5. For the purpose of carrying this Act into execution, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners at any time after their appointment to appoint a secretary, and such clerks and other officers under them, (such secretary, clerks, and other officers being first approved of by the Lord Lieutenant or other chief governor 15 or governors of Ireland for the time being,) as they the said Commissioners of Irish Sea Fisheries shall think fit: Provided always, that no appointment to any such office shall be made unless and until the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury shall have signified their assent to the proposal for making an appoint- 20 ment to such office, and of the salary proposed to be annexed to such office.

Commissioners to make reports to the Lord Lieutenant and to Parliament.

6. The said Commissioners of the Irish Sea Fisheries to be appointed by virtue of this Act shall and they are hereby required to deliver or cause to be delivered annually, on or before the first day 25 of January in every year, to the Lord Lieutenant or other chief governor or governors of Ireland for the time being, a full and accurate report of their proceedings for the year preceeding; and shall also cause to be laid before both Houses of Parliament, within fourteen days after the sitting of each House next ensuing such first 30 day of January, a copy of every such report, under their seal, and signed by their secretary.

Commissioners to hold office during pleasure.

7. The Commissioners shall hold their appointment during the pleasure of the Lord Lieutenant; and on the death, resignation, or removal of any of them, the Lord Lieutenant shall, by warrant 35 under his hand and seal, appoint another person in the room of the Commissioner so dying, resigning, or being removed.

Power to make bye-laws.

8. At a meeting or meetings to be held as soon as conveniently may be after their appointment, the Commissioners shall frame rules and regulations for their meetings, and the transaction of business; 40 and such rules, upon being approved of by the Lord Lieutenant, shall be the rules regulating all such matters: Provided always, that the Commissioners may at any time, and with the like approbation, alter, vary, repeal, or add to such rules, or adopt other and different ones in their stead.

A.D. 1875.

9. The Commissioners may by such rules if they shall so think 5 fit, direct that any portion of the business intrusted to them by this Act may be transacted by a committee of their body, to be appointed in such manner and acting in such manner as such rules may prescribe.

Commissioners may be appointed.

10. The Commissioners shall have power from time to time to 10 prescribe and regulate the duties of all officers appointed by them, and to dismiss any of such officers, when they shall so think fit.

Power over officers.

11. The Commissioners shall have power, at any time after their appointment, and from time to time as occasion may require, to make and promulgate any reasonable byelaw or byelaws regulating 15 the mode and manner and time in which fishing shall be carried on in any of the estuaries, deep sea, and tidal waters adjoining the Irish coast, and prohibiting such fishing, at any time or in any manner which may appear to them injurious to the fisheries; and they may by any such byelaw or byelaws regulate the size of the 20 nets and meshes of the nets or other instruments to be used in such fishing, and make such regulations as to the management of the vessels engaged in such fishing, and of the conduct in the course of fishing of the crew and other men employed therein, and generally as to all matters connected with the fishing for, taking, selling, or 25 otherwise disposing of such fish, as may appear to them necessary for the protection of the fishery, and also from time to time by any such new byelaw to vary, alter, or repeal any previous byelaw, or to substitute a new byelaw; and it shall be lawful for them, in any such byelaw, or altered or substituted byelaw, if they shall so think 30 fit, to impose as a penalty for its violation a fine not exceeding twenty pounds, or imprisonment not exceeding three months; but no byelaw made by them under the authority of this section shall be of any force or effect unless and until same shall be approved of by the Lord Lieutenant and Privy Council, and such notice shall be 35 given of every such byelaw before being approved of by the Privy Council, as the Lord Lieutenant may by Order in Council direct.

Byelaws for the regulation of the fisheries.

12. Whenever they shall think fit, or whenever the Lord Lieutenant shall direct, the Commissioners shall, before passing such byelaw, or at any time before same is approved of by the Privy Council, 40 hold an inquiry in relation to the advisability or propriety of such byelaw, in such manner and in such place as they may think fit, or the Lord Lieutenant may direct.

Commissioners to hold inquiries.

A.D. 1875.

Byelaws to be laid before Parliament.

13. After the commencement of this Act every byelaw so approved of shall have the force and effect of law, and its violation be punished by the penalties, herein-after mentioned: Provided always, that every such byelaw shall, within one week after being approved of by the Lord Lieutenant and Privy Council, be laid before both Houses of Parliament, if Parliament be then sitting, and if not, within one week of its next re-assembling; and if either House of Parliament shall, within thirty days, exclusive of any days during which time it shall not sit, or if Parliament be not sitting at the end of such thirty days, then within thirty days from the commencement of the next session, present an address to Her Majesty disapproving of such byelaw, then and in that case from the time of the presentation of such address such byelaw shall be of no further force and effect. 10

Byelaws to have the force of law.

14. All byelaws so made and approved of shall, until same are altered, repealed, or annulled in manner hereafter mentioned, have the same force and effect as if they were contained in this Act, and shall be observed by all persons to whom same apply. 15

Penalties for violation of byelaws.

15. Any person violating any such byelaws shall be guilty of a misdemeanour, and on being convicted thereof may be punished by fine or imprisonment at the discretion of the court, or upon summary conviction before two justices of the peace in the manner prescribed by the Petty Sessions, Ireland, Act, with imprisonment not exceeding six months, or a fine not exceeding fifty pounds: Provided always, that wherever by any byelaw any punishment is imposed for such offence pursuant to the provisions herein-before contained, no greater or other punishment shall be inflicted upon any person convicted, either on indictment or summarily, than that mentioned in the byelaw, and where such byelaw shall impose only a pecuniary penalty the punishment of imprisonment shall not be imposed. 20 25 30

16. The Commissioners shall, as soon as conveniently may be after their appointment, divide the coast of Ireland into such and so many districts as may to them appear necessary and expedient, and shall by an order under their seal, with the approbation of the Lord Lieutenant, define and fix the limits of such districts; and it shall be lawful for them at any time, and from time to time, by like order, and with the like approbation, to vary the number and limits of such districts as may appear to them to be fit. 35

Fishing vessels to be licensed.

17. No vessel of any kind or description the burden of which shall exceed five tons shall be employed in fishing in any estuary or any waters adjoining the coast of Ireland unless and until a license for such vessel shall be obtained for such vessel from the 40

Commissioners of Irish Sea Fisheries. Every license so granted by the Commissioners shall be in force for a period of twelve months and no longer.

A.D. 1875.

18. For the purpose of granting such licenses the Commissioners shall appoint such and so many persons, resident in seaport towns, as they may think fit, with power and authority to grant same; and every owner or other person employing such vessel for the purpose of fishing shall be entitled to obtain such license on lodging with any of such officers, or, if he shall so think fit, with the secretary of the Commissioners, a statement of the particulars herein-after mentioned, and paying for such license such sum as the Commissioners may determine, not exceeding one shilling for each ton of the burden of such vessel.

Licensing-officers to be appointed.

19. The statement so to be lodged shall state the name and residence of the person or persons proposing to employ such vessel in fishing, the number of men and boys respectively to be employed in same, and the name of the master of the vessel, the tonnage of the vessel, and shall be accompanied by a copy of the register of such vessel.

Statement to be lodged.

20. Any person who shall use or employ any vessel whose burden shall exceed five tons in any of the fishings regulated by this Act without having obtained the license hereby required, shall forfeit and pay to the Commissioners for such and every time the vessel is so employed the sum of _____ pounds; and such sum may be recovered, in addition to the means in this Act provided, by action in any of the superior courts of law in England or Ireland, or in the Court of Session in Scotland, and may be recovered either from the owner or owners or from the master or person acting as master of such vessel, or from any person employing or using same in such fishing.

Penalty on fishing without license.

21. It shall be lawful for the Commissioners, if they shall think fit, to revoke the license granted for the use of any vessel if any person acting under any such license shall, after the grant of such license, be three times convicted of any offence against the provisions of this Act; and if it shall at any time appear to the Commissioners, by report of their officers or otherwise, that any such vessel is in such condition or is so worked as to be dangerous to the lives of the persons employed therein, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners to hold an inquiry into the sufficiency of the condition or mode of working of such vessel by a person or persons appointed for that purpose by the Lord Lieutenant; and if upon such inquiry the person or persons holding such inquiry shall report that such vessel is in such condition or is so worked as to be dangerous to the lives of the persons employed therein, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners either to revoke the license, or to allow same to continue in force upon such terms and conditions as to the repairs or future working of the vessel as they shall think fit.

Powers of inspectors of salmon fisheries preserved.

22. Nothing herein contained shall interfere with the power of the inspectors of Irish fisheries to make such regulations as they are by any statute empowered to do to regulate the taking of salmon in any of the estuaries or tidal waters in Ireland.

10

Powers of inspectors as to deep sea fisheries vested in Commissioners.

23. From and after the commencement of this Act all other power relating to the fisheries in the deep sea or in the estuaries or tidal waters on the coast of Ireland now vested in the inspectors of Irish fisheries shall be vested in and be exercised by the Commissioners under this Act; and, unless where it is otherwise hereby provided, the powers conferred by this Act shall be deemed to be in addition to and not in substitution for those hitherto exercised by the said inspectors of Irish fisheries.

Admiralty to appoint inspectors.

24. And be it further enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, upon the application of the said Commissioners of the Irish Sea Fisheries, to appoint one or more commissioned officer or officers in Her Majesty's navy as superintendent or superintendents of the fishery described in this Act, for the purpose of causing the same to be carried on according to the regulations of this Act, and also as well for preserving order among the persons employed therein as for protecting them and their vessels against violence, and under such orders, rules, and regulations as shall be made in that behalf by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty; and every person so appointed superintendent shall proceed annually with a proper vessel or vessels of sufficient force to such place and to arrive at such time as the Commissioners may, with the sanction of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, appoint.

Duties of superintendent.

25. Every person so to be appointed superintendent shall exercise his office within the district or districts named in his appointment, and shall remain with his vessel within such district or districts during the time fixed for his appointment, and shall do and execute all such things and orders as he may be reasonably required by the Commissioners under the regulations laid down for him by the Commissioners of the Admiralty; he shall prevent all vessels from fishing in any manner inconsistent with the byelaws in that behalf made by the Commissioners; and for this purpose it shall be lawful for any superintendent of the said fisheries, or any person or persons acting by his orders, at all times whenever he shall think fit, either at sea or in any loch or bay, or on the coast, 5 during the continuance of the fishery, or after the return from the fishery, to go on board any of the vessels employed in the fishery placed under his superintendence, to inspect the license and certificate of registry of such vessel; and such superintendent is hereby empowered to detain any such vessel, and to examine 10 whether the master and other persons on board the same are in all respects carrying on and prosecuting the said fishery in the manner required by the byelaws of the Commissioners; and if any person or persons shall impede or obstruct, or attempt to impede or obstruct, any other person or persons in the lawful 15 prosecution of the said fishery, such superintendent shall require such person or persons so impeding or obstructing, or attempting to impede or obstruct, any other person or persons, to desist from so doing; and if such person or persons so required to desist shall disregard such requisition, it shall be lawful for such superintendent 20 to employ such force as shall be necessary to compel him or them to preserve order. If the master or any part of the crew is not or shall not be in all respects carrying on and prosecuting the fishery in the manner hereby required, or had impeded or obstructed, or attempted to impede or obstruct, any other person or persons in 25 the lawful prosecution of the said fishery, such superintendent shall report the same fully and particularly to the said Commissioners of the Irish Sea Fisheries, and shall deliver one copy of such report under his hand to the master of such vessel, and shall transmit another copy to the said Commissioners by the first 30 opportunity; and if any person or persons shall resist or obstruct any such superintendent, or any person or persons acting under him, in the execution of any of the powers to him or them given by this Act, every person so offending shall forfeit and pay the sum of ten pounds.

35 26. Of the officers to be appointed by the Commissioners under the provisions herein-before contained, one at least shall be appointed for each district, to be called and known as the chief officer of fisheries for such district. The person so appointed shall reside within the district in such place as the Commissioners may 40 appoint; he shall discharge all such duties as to the execution of this Act, and generally as to the inspection, improvement, and encouragement of the fisheries, as the Commissioners may direct; and he shall from time to time make to the Commissioners reports pointed for each district.

A.D. 1875. upon all matters connected with the fisheries within his district, and the improvement and encouragement of same, as the Commissioners may from time to time desire and direct.

Commissioners to brand casks for exportation.

27. And whereas it is expedient that the exporters of fish taken and cured in Ireland should have the same advantage of 5 exporting the same in barrels, casks, or other vessels branded with a mark denoting that the fish contained in such vessels have been duly and properly cured, and are fit for exportation, as is now enjoyed by exporters in Scotland; and it is also just and expedient that for the time herein-after mentioned such mark 10 should be branded after careful examination, without any cost to the exporter, as same was for many years done for persons exporting fish taken and cured in Scotland: Be it therefore enacted, That after the commencement of this Act it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, and they are hereby required, by officers 15 duly appointed by them for that purpose, to brand with a mark denoting that the fish contained in such vessel are properly cured and fit for exportation, all barrels, casks, and other vessels containing fish which shall be so packed and cured as upon examination shall be found to be properly cured and packed, and 20 in such manner as to be fit for exportation.

Appointment of branding stations.

28. For the purpose of such branding the Commissioners shall appoint such and so many places as may, in their judgment, be necessary or convenient to be branding stations under this Act; and no place shall be appointed a branding station, except with 25 the approval of the Lord Lieutenant, upon a certificate under the seal of the Commissioners, stating that, in their opinion, after full examination, it is proper and necessary to appoint a branding station at such place.

Casks after examination
to be branded.

29. Subject to the regulations herein-after mentioned, any person 30 who shall bring to the officer appointed for that purpose at any branding station any barrel, cask, or vessel containing cured herrings, pilchards, sprats, or any other species of fish which the Commissioners shall by any rule made under their seal from time to time direct, which shall be properly cured and packed, so as, in the 35 judgment of the officers appointed to examine same, to be in a state fit and proper to be exported, shall be entitled to have branded upon such barrel, cask, or vessel a mark, in such form and manner as the Commissioners may direct, denoting that same has been approved of by the proper officer, and also denoting the weight or 40 quantity of fish contained in such vessel, and the species of fish contained in same.

30. The Commissioners shall be and they are hereby empowered to prescribe all such reasonable regulations as to the inspection and examination of the sufficiency of the curing and packing of the fish contained in the vessels so brought to be branded, and as to the other matters denoted by the brand, but it shall not be lawful for them to prescribe any particular mode of curing or packing as necessary for the obtaining of the brand; and all such regulations made by the Commissioners shall be so made subject to the approval of the Board of Trade.

A.D. 1875,
Commissioners to make regulations for branding.

31. The Commissioners shall, with the approval of the Lord Lieutenant, fix and declare the number of officers to be employed by them in and about the inspection, examination, and branding of the barrels, casks, or other vessels so brought to them to be branded; and they shall assign to such officers such salaries as they, with the approval of the Commissioners of the Treasury, shall think fit; and thereupon it shall be lawful for the Lord Lieutenant, on the recommendation of the Commissioners, to appoint fit and proper persons to be so employed, and especially to appoint persons at the respective places on the coast of Ireland appointed as branding stations by the Commissioners, and also, if it shall so seem expedient, at all places where herrings and other fish are caught or cured, and at the ports or places where vessels employed in the said fishery usually discharge their cargoes, and to overlook, if so called on, the curing of all herrings caught, and other fish, and to inspect and take account of all fish landed or exported, and to certify whether the fish are properly pined, cured, and packed, so as to be entitled to the brand herein-before mentioned, or fit to be exported: Provided always, that no person shall be appointed an officer for the performance of any of those duties unless such person shall have exercised the trade of a cooper, and been employed in the curing and packing of herrings, and shall be skilful therein, and fully qualified to execute the duties which will be required of him under the provisions of this Act, certificates of which qualifications shall be transmitted to the Lord Lieutenant, by such persons and in such manner as shall be satisfactory to the said Lord Lieutenant, together with a certificate from the Commissioners, that after full and due examination they are satisfied that such person is fully qualified to discharge such duties; and every such officer so to be appointed shall obey such instructions, orders, or directions as he shall from time to time receive from the Commissioners to be appointed by virtue of this Act, signified under the hand of their secretary.

Branding
officers to be appointed.

32. And be it further enacted, that every officer of the fishery to be appointed as in last preceding section mentioned shall be

Commissioners may discharge officers.

A.D. 1875. liable to be suspended or dismissed from his office or employment respectively, by the Commissioners, either for incompetency or for neglect of duty: Provided always, that every such officer of the fishery shall, previous to his entering upon the duties of his office, take and subscribe the following oath :

‘ I A.B. do swear, that I will faithfully and honestly, according to the best of my skill and judgment, execute the office and trust committed to me, of [the name of the officer to be here mentioned] and that I am not, directly or indirectly, concerned as an adventurer in the White Herring Fishery, or in any other fishery, or as a curer of fish; nor will I, so long as I shall continue to act as [the name of the office to be here mentioned], be concerned, either directly or indirectly, as an adventurer in the said fishery, or as a curer of fish.

‘ So help me GOD.’

Which oath any one of the said Commissioners may administer to such officer.

After years fees may be charged for breeding.

33. For years after the passing of this Act no charge shall be made to any person for the inspection, examination, or branding of any barrels, casks, or other vessels of fish under this Act. After the expiration of years, unless Parliament shall otherwise provide, such fee shall be charged for same as the Commissioners of the Treasury may direct; and all the fees so received shall be paid by the Commissioners into the Exchequer, and form part of the Consolidated Fund.

Commissioners to have charge of reproductive loan fund.

34. And whereas it is expedient that loans should be made to the fishermen engaged in the deep-sea fishery, in order to enable them to provide themselves with suitable boats and gear, and that such loans should be made under the superintendence of the Commissioners hereby appointed: From and after the commencement of this Act, all the powers vested in the inspectors of Irish fisheries by the Reproductive Loan Fund Act, 1874, as to the funds mentioned in that Act, shall be vested in and exercised by the Commissioners under this Act.

Commissioners to make loans.

35. It shall be lawful for the Commissioners, with the approval of the Lord Lieutenant, from time to time to ordain such rules and regulations as may appear to them to be proper and expedient for the making of loans under this Act, and providing for the security to be taken for same, the mode of repayment thereof, the ensuring that they shall be applied to the purposes for which they are intended, and all other matters connected with the loan; and it shall be lawful for them, if they shall so think fit, by such regulations to prescribe that such loans may be made for the erection of curing houses, the providing of the means of transport of the fish caught, or for any purpose connected with the improvement of the fisheries on such terms and conditions as may be thought fit, and it shall be lawful for the Commissioners to make such loans in accordance with such regulations out of any moneys that may be in their hands for or applicable to such purposes.

A.D. 1875.

36. For the purpose of enabling the Commissioners to make such loans, it shall be lawful for the Commissioners of the Treasury, and they are hereby required, within one month after the commencement of this Act, to pay and advance to the Commissioners, out of the growing produce of the Consolidated Fund of the United Kingdom, the sum of twenty thousand pounds to be applied by the said Commissioners in making such loans in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

Advance to be made by Treasury.

37. And whereas it is expedient that the control and care of all fishery piers in Ireland shall be vested in the Commissioners appointed under this Act: From and after the commencement of this Act all piers which by an Act passed in the seventeenth year of Her Majesty the now Queen, intituled "An Act for enabling " Grand Juries in Ireland to borrow money from private sources on " the security of presentments, and for transferring to counties " certain works constructed wholly or in part with public money," were vested in the grand jury of any county in Ireland, shall become and be vested in the Commissioners, who shall keep same in repair, and pay all expenses connected with their superintendence and management out of any monies that may be in their hands applicable to such purposes.

Piers and harbours to be vested in Commissioners.

38. And whereas there are now vested in the Commissioners of Public Works several piers and harbours on the coast of Ireland, the custody and care of which might be properly and conveniently transferred to the Commissioners of Irish Sea Fisheries: It shall be lawful for the Lord Lieutenant, by and with the advice of the Privy Council, by an order made before the commencement of this Act, to decide that the piers and harbours named in such order shall be transferred to and vested in the Commissioners of Irish Fisheries, and from and after the commencement of this Act all the piers and harbours named in such order shall be vested in the Commissioners of Irish Deep Sea Fisheries.

Lord Lieutenant to transfer fishery piers from Board of Works to Commissioners.

39. For the purpose of enabling new works to be undertaken for the erection of new fishery piers, or the enlargement or improvement of existing piers, there shall be annually issued to the Commis-

To be expended on fishery piers. 40. It shall be lawful for the said Commissioners to apply the said sum, and such other sums as may come into their hands applicable to such purpose, in aid of the erection, improvement, and enlargement of fishery piers, either by way of grant or loan; and it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, with the approval of the Lord Lieutenant, to make such rules as they may think fit, regulating the terms and conditions upon which aid shall be given to any proposed work, either by way of grant or loan: Provided always, that in any case in which they shall think it fit, for special reasons, so to do, the Commissioners may, with the approval of the Lord Lieutenant, take upon themselves the entire cost of the erection of any new pier, or the enlargement or improvement of any existing pier. 15

Grand jury may exercise powers of borrowing. 41. All statutes now in force enabling grand juries to secure by presentment any loans or advances made for the erection or improvement of piers shall be applicable to any loans to be made by the Commissioners under this Act; and all the powers conferred upon grand juries by any statute enabling them in that behalf may be exercised in relation to any such loans. 20

Loans repaid may be re-lent. 42. When any loan made under the authority of this Act, or any portion of it, is repaid to the Commissioners, it shall be lawful for them to apply the money so repaid in the same manner as they are hereby authorised to apply the sums to be usually paid to them out of the Consolidated Fund. 25

Board of Works to advance money. 43. Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, it shall be lawful for the Commissioners of Public Works in Ireland to advance or lend money for the construction, erection, or repair of fishery piers in Ireland in the same manner as if this Act had not been passed; and, if they shall so think fit, with the approbation and consent of the Lord Lieutenant, to advance same on the recommendation of the Commissioners of Irish Sea Fisheries, and to advance such monies to be expended under the control and direction of the said last-mentioned Commissioners. 30

Engineer to be appointed. 44. It shall be lawful for the Lord Lieutenant to appoint a fit and proper person to be engineer to the said Commissioners, with such salary and allowances, and upon such terms, as he may, with the approval of the Commissioners of the Treasury, direct. The engineer so appointed shall act under the directions of the Commissioners, and shall be removable by them for incompetence or misconduct. 35 40

45. The salaries of all officers appointed under this Act, the expense of maintaining and superintending the fishery piers hereby vested in the Commissioners, and all expenses incurred by the Commissioners in the execution of this Act, shall be defrayed out of such moneys as Parliament may from time to time for that purpose provide.
